

WANT LICENSE WESTERLY

Thirteen Applications Received by Town Clerk Up to Closing Hours Saturday—Seventeen the Limit—Policeman Complain of Being Underpaid—Death of John J. Carney—Louis Dotolo Withdraws Case Against Pawcatuck Street Railway from Superior Court.

Soon after the beginning of the liquor license year of 1910, the first in the annals of the town of Westerly, it was reported that the license fee of $700 was excessive and that many who had taken out licenses would be glad to retire from the business if they could only get their money back. It is a fact, however, that although the saloons are not located in the most conspicuous and most traveled streets, they have all managed to get by and it is quite probable that all holders of liquor license will make applications for licenses for the next license year, which begins December 1.

The town council, which acts as the license board, has made announcement that applications will be received up to noon of next Wednesday, in order that required notices can be given to the council on the 29th, as it is desired that all licenses be issued at the very beginning of the license year, if possible.

According to law, Westerly is entitled to just seventeen liquor licenses. The council has decided to issue the full number of 29, each of them to be a surplus of applications. Up to closing time Saturday afternoon, town clerk William H. Pratt had received thirteen applications as follows: From James B. Holliday, Alphonso Acosta, Frank Erino, Pasquale Salomone, Charles Taft, Salomone, Antonio J. Martin, Giuseppe Lallina, Giuseppe Turano, Nulgo Bonventuro, Michael McCarthy, Luigi Toscano and John P. Champlin. The latter for the Ocean house at Watch Hill. Other applications will probably come from the Watch Hill house, the Dixon house and Haven in Canal street.

All those named received licenses last year except Charles C. Taft, who applies for license for the New Park hotel in High street. He was refused license last year and an effort to transfer the license of another to that place failed. It is said that there will be a few new applicants besides Mr. Taft, but the council are in favor of the plan to give preference to those already holding license, who have been at the expense of fitting up places for the business and have not been reported as violating the laws of Rhode Island concerning the sale of intoxicating liquors. The drugists' liquor license year does not expire until next May and they do not figure in the application of the general liquor law which provides for one license to each five hundred of inhabitants.

Since the committee of the town council has made report of progress an police regulations, which, if adopted, will conform to those governing the city police, there is complaint that the local police are underpaid and that there should be a salary increase in keeping with the regulations. With a force of four men in the compact part of the town they are expected to do ten hours of patrol duty at the rate of twenty cents an hour, to be in readiness to respond to extra call to duty at any time, without extra pay, and to keep themselves as well uniformed as the well-paid police of large cities. The policeman of Westerly do not receive more pay as the laborers employed by the committee on highways for work on the streets and roads of the town, although the duties of the police are exacting and subject to the most stringent of rules.

The personnel of the police force is of the very best, and it is believed that the taxpayers are in favor of giving them proper recompense. This salary matter has been brought to public attention just at this time by the action of some of the police constables who are called to service in cases of emergency who announce that they will not serve at less than $2.50 a night, when suggestion was made that police constables should receive more pay than was given the regular members of the force.

The movement for a state police force for Rhode Island, the initiative for which was taken by the Westerly board of trade, and which will receive additional attention at the next meeting, is being discussed in several sections of the state and will result in legislative action at the next session of the general assembly which will convene in January. The local board saw the necessity of such a force in connection with the Newell robbery and the failure to detect the Register and Nickerson murderers has attracted state-wide attention. The attorney general has openly declared that the state is lacking in proper police machinery and is not only in favor of a state police but also district attorneys whose special duties would be the deterring out and prosecution of criminal cases, the civil business to be cared for by the attorney general's office.

The local board of trade has already requested the Westerly delegation to the general assembly to favor legislation that would result in the formation of a state police and general reformation police machinery of the state.

John J. Carney, water commissioner and assessor for the town of Westerly for many years, and in the town council in 1888, 1889 and 1901, died Saturday evening at his home in Spring street from Bright's disease. Mr. Carney was born in Mystic, learned the stone cutter's trade in Westerly, which he followed regularly for several years and at intervals ever since. In Cleveland, Ohio, he was employed by the first man from Westerly to receive political recognition and was appointed to the railway mail service, from which he subsequently resigned. He has for several years been engaged in the real estate and insurance business, with office in High street, and worked occasionally at his trade, when not otherwise engaged. Mr. Carney was an excellent worker as well as commissioner and assessor and was always interested in the advancement of Westerly. He was a valued member of the church, and for fifteen years served as financial secretary of that organization.

Mr. Carney was 56 years of age and is survived by his mother, who resides in Mystic, and four sisters. He also leaves a widow, four daughters—Mary, who is organist at the church of the Immaculate Conception; Mrs. James King of Providence, Pauline and Doris, and a son, John Carney, bookkeeper for the Crumba.

SICK HEADACHE, DIZZINESS, TORPID LIVER, CONSTIPATION—CASCARETS

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver, delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous matter, instead of being thrown out, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, awful throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the poison move on and out and purifying the blood. The effect is almost instantaneous. Ladies whose sensitive organisms are especially prone to sick headaches, need not suffer, for they can be quickly cured by Cascarets. One taken tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box means a clear head and perfect health for months.

Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle, cleansing, too. Children gladly take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

To Keep Oilcloth Like New
Oilcloth should not be swept with a straw broom or scrubbed with a stiff brush. Instead, sweep with a soft hair brush and wipe off with lukewarm water in which has been dissolved a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder and rinse with clear, warm water. Where oilcloth is losing its shiny surface, wash as above, then dissolve a little ordinary glue in a pint of hot water. At night go over the whole carefully with a flannel dipped in glue water. Close a dry day and by morning the gloss will be hard; it will give a fine gloss and make the oilcloth wear much longer.

Advice to Mothers

Have you had baby's photograph taken? It's an art to take baby's photograph as it should be taken. To his rough little smile, his pretty little dimple. Such photographs become prized remembrances of babyhood's days in years to come. We have had years of experience in photographing children. They always look their best when we take them. No troublesome posing. Snap them in a jiffy.
